

Momentum Grid® Report for ERP Systems

Winter 2024

Trending ERP Systems

Momentum scores for ERP Systems are shown below. The Momentum Grid® highlights each product’s Momentum score on the vertical axis and the product’s Satisfaction score on the horizontal axis. These scores are based on G2’s Satisfaction and Momentum algorithms. Products with a top 25% Momentum Grid® score are shown within the shaded area below.

G2 Momentum Grid® Scoring

ERP Systems Momentum Grid® Description

A product's Momentum score is calculated by a proprietary algorithm that factors in social, web, employee, and review data that G2 has deemed influential in a company's momentum. Software buyers can compare products in the ERP Systems category according to their Momentum and Satisfaction scores to streamline the buying process and quickly identify trending products. For sellers, media, investors, and analysts, the Momentum Grid® provides benchmarks for product comparison and market trend analysis. Badges are awarded to products with the top Momentum Grid® scores.

Products included in the Momentum Grid® for ERP Systems have received a minimum of 10 reviews. There must also be at least a year of G2 data for the product to be included. These ratings may change as the products are further developed, the sellers grow, and additional opinions are shared by users; a new Momentum Grid® report will be issued for this category as significant data is collected.

ERP Systems Definition

Enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems are complete, integrated systems that manage all aspects of a production-based or distribution business, aligning financial management, human resources, supply chain management, and manufacturing or distribution with the core function of accounting. ERP systems are used to provide transparency into the entire business process by tracking all aspects of production or distribution, financials, and back office. These expansive systems act as a central hub for end-to-end workflow and data. A variety of departments can view the information recorded by ERP systems to ensure the correct procedures are taking place.

ERPs are used by manufacturing and distribution companies. Instead of using standalone products (which may not properly integrate) in each separate department, ERP systems provide cohesiveness from the beginning to end of all business processes. This assists in the expansion and growth of a company. While ERPs cover a wide range of functionality within themselves, they may integrate with CRM software and PSA software products. Users may also choose to integrate standalone products to form a unique ERP system. Others might solely select specific modules from an ERP system that are sold uniquely to best match business needs, instead of purchasing the entire suite. Some project-centric companies may run similar project-based ERP systems that do not focus on product manufacturing but still offer an end-to-end business solution.

ERP systems provide a variety of modules, and while each business has unique requirements, most ERP systems offer the following:

- ▶ Accounting features like general ledger, accounts payable/receivable, budgeting, and cash management
- ▶ Human resources (HR) functionality such as recruiting and payroll, or integration with HR and payroll solutions
- ▶ Basic sales and customer management features or integration with CRM solutions
- ▶ Functions to create different types of quotes, sales orders, and returns
- ▶ Purchasing workflows and purchase order management
- ▶ Inventory and warehouse management software including picking, packing, and shipping
- ▶ Advanced supply chain modules like demand planning and transportation management for distribution companies
- ▶ Production modules that include bill of materials (BOM), manufacturing resource planning (MRP), and quality management features for manufacturing companies
- ▶ Reporting and analytics for all the modules included in the ERP solution

Momentum Grid® Methodology

G2 rates products based on reviews gathered from our user community, as well as data aggregated from online sources and social networks. The Momentum Grid® for ERP Systems is based on scores calculated using the G2 Satisfaction algorithm v3.0 and the G2 Momentum algorithm v1.0 from reviews collected through November 21, 2023.

Satisfaction Methodology

The satisfaction rating is affected by the following:

- ▶ Customer satisfaction with end user-focused product attributes based on user reviews
- ▶ Popularity and statistical significance based on the number of reviews received by G2
- ▶ Quality of reviews received (reviews that are more thoroughly completed will be weighted more heavily)
- ▶ Age of reviews (more-recent reviews provide relevant and up-to-date information that is reflective of the current state of a product)
- ▶ Customers' satisfaction with administration-specific product attributes based on user reviews
- ▶ Overall customer satisfaction and Net Promoter Score® (NPS) based on ratings by G2 users

*The customer Satisfaction score is normalized for each Grid®, meaning the scores are relative.

Momentum Methodology

Each variable is normalized by category and aggregated to create a Momentum score. The inputs impacting G2's Momentum score are as follows:

- ▶ Employee growth, review growth, social growth, and web growth
- ▶ Year-over-year change

Categorization Methodology

Making G2 research relevant and easy for people to use as they evaluate and select business software products is one of our most important goals. In support of that goal, organizing products and software companies in a well-defined structure that makes capturing, evaluating, and displaying reviews and other research in an orderly manner is a critical part of the research process.

To manage the process of categorizing the software products and the related reviews in the G2 community, G2 follows a publicly available categorization methodology. All products appearing on the Momentum Grid® for Distribution ERP have passed through G2's categorization methodology and meet G2's category standards.

Many terms that appear regularly across G2 and are used to aid in product categorization warrant a definition to facilitate buyer understanding. These terms may be included within reviews from the G2 community or in executive summaries for products included on the Grid®.

A list of standard definitions is available to G2 users to eliminate confusion and ease the buying process.

Rating Changes and Dynamics

The ratings in this report are based on a snapshot of the user reviews and social data collected by G2 up through November 21, 2023. The ratings may change as the products are further developed, the sellers grow, and additional opinions are shared by users. G2 updates the ratings on its website in real time as additional data is received, and this report will be updated as significant data is received.

Trust

Keeping our ratings unbiased is our top priority. We require the use of a LinkedIn account to validate a G2 user's identity and employer. Additionally, we verify all reviews manually. We do not allow users to rate their employers' products or those of their employers' competitors. Though we share reviews from business partners (they often contain valuable content), we filter out business partner ratings in our aggregate ratings to avoid bias.

Our G2 staff does not add any subjective input to the ratings, which are determined algorithmically based on data aggregated from publicly available online sources and social networks. Sellers cannot influence their ratings by spending time or money with us. Only the opinion of real users and data from public sources factor into the ratings.

G2 may occasionally offer incentives for honest reviews to help us gather a full and accurate data set. These incentives are offered as thank-yous for approved reviews. Incentives are never conditioned upon the substance of the review, positive or negative. Each such incentivized review is disclosed with an "Incentivized Review" banner.
